Hot Dog Fisheries

With more than 30 years in the abalone industry and a personal service that manages the whole process from harvesting to finished product, Hot Dog Fisheries has a strong reputation for quality. Marketed under the Southern Cape brand, its Greenlip and Blacklip abalone products are in great demand.

Plucked from nature

Consumers throughout the major Asian markets know they are dealing with a family business that prides itself on its operation – and its location.

Southern Cape abalone are taken from the cool clear waters off the South Australian coastline – particularly from the famous Kangaroo Island and adjacent waters.

These cold unpolluted growing conditions, naturally flushed by strong tidal currents, are perfect for helping the product develop its firm fleshy consistency and superb taste.

From this clean ocean, the abalone are hand picked by the Hot Dog Fisheries divers, brought to the surface, shucked, washed and taken ashore for processing.

The company manages its processing operations from the mainland base of Cape Jervis, located within easy access to the main fishing grounds and to export shipping services.

Premium quality checked

What nature began – nurturing the abalone in an ideal environment – quality processes maintain.

The company follows HACCP procedures on its fishing craft and its factory is inspected by independent government inspectors from AQIS (Australian Quarantine Inspection Service).

This ensures that customers receive a product that meets international health standards.

THROUGH FOOD ADELAIDE, BUYERS CAN CONNECT WITH SUPPLIERS FROM THE VARIED FOOD AND BEVERAGE OFFERING OF AUSTRALIA.
